the most important thing an owner can do for their fireworks-phobic dog is to provide them with a bolt hole; a place where the dog can escape to when the festivities begin.